

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Mick Cassidy and Intergrated Safety Solutions have become a valuable and integral part of the Franciswhite management strategy. Intergrated Safety Solutions provided us with a comprehensive yet user-friendly safety management system which contained all the site and other related documentation in a format that could easily be adapted depending on the project.

Franciswhite also utilise Intergrated Safety Solutions to provide an independent audit programme for all projects during the construction phase.

We also find the service invaluable with pre-construction planning when obtaining the correct advice can mean the difference between success and failure or at the very least costly changes to the construction schedule.

We are very pleased with the relationship which has developed with Intergrated Safety Solutions. The two companies will continue to grow into the future and form stronger alliances."
